

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. Committee on Science and the Arts

— OF THE —

Franklin Institute of the State of Pennsylvania, 1834-1890.

COMPILED

UNDER THE DIRECTION OF THE COMMITTEE

— BY —

PERCY A. BIVINS

AND PUBLISHED BY THE AUTHORITY OF THE INSTITUTE.

PHILADELPHIA :

1890.

PRESS OF
EDWARD STERN & CO.
PHILADELPHIA.

PREFACE.

The Committee on Science and the Arts of the Franklin Institute was organized in 1834, for the purposes expressed in the following quotation from the By-Laws of the Institute :

“ To perform such duties as may devolve upon them, and to sustain by their labors the scientific character of the Institute.”

Originally this committee consisted of such members of the Institute as should voluntarily enroll themselves as pledged to perform such work, and their reports were submitted to the Institute for ratification.

To this committee were referred the examination of new inventions and discoveries, and recommendations for rewards for meritorious inventions.

With the rapid progress of the arts the number of applications for awards greatly increased, and with it the danger of erroneous recommendations from a voluntary committee. In 1887, the committee was reorganized so as to be elective, consisting of forty-five members, fifteen being chosen annually for a term of three years, and their action was accepted as the decision of the Institute.

Up to the year 1888, about 1,500 examinations and reports had been made, which were simply filed away in numerical order. A knowledge of their contents (excepting those that had been published) rested only in the recollections of the members. Comparatively few of the earlier members now survive.

The value of these reports as indicating earlier states of art was recognized by the Committee, and in order to render them accessible for reference, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted by the Committee at their meeting of October 2, 1889:

“ WHEREAS, There have been a large number of reports prepared by the Committee on Science and the Arts which are not within the knowledge or recollection of many of the present membership of the Committee and are not useful or convenient for reference, for the reason that there is no index or catalogue setting forth their subject-matter, although many of these reports contain valuable and exact information as to the state of many arts in earlier periods ;

“ AND, WHEREAS, Provision has been made without cost to the

Institute for the expense of clerical services incurred in the preparation of suitable subject-matter indices for said reports, from the first reports issued to this date, such intended indices being

“(1) Of the names of applicants for examination.*

“(2) Of the names of the inventors.

“(3) Of the title of the invention; and

“(4) Of the subject-matter as classified to conform to the system of classification now employed in the U. S. Patent Office;

“Therefore Resolved, that a committee be appointed to supervise the preparation of said indices and that upon the completion thereof, all subsequent reports be immediately added to said indices as soon as final action of the Committee is taken thereon.”

The sub-committee was appointed by the Chair as follows: Messrs. Cheney (Chairman), Heyl, Hexamer, Leclère and Wiegand.

The compilation of the Index, under the direction of the Committee, was completed in December, 1889, and by the Committee on Science and the Arts was reported to the Institute, and by the Institute referred to the Board of Managers, which directed its publication.

Provision has been made by the Secretary to index in like manner all subsequent reports, so that hereafter the record of the researches of the committee will readily be accessible.

Applications upon which, from lack of data or other reason, no report was made, are indicated in the Index by an asterisk (*). In such case, however, the records, which are accessible, will generally be found to contain a complete history of the case.

The compilation of this Index and the supervision of its publication were done by Mr. Percy A. Bivins, to whom the Committee's acknowledgments are due for the intelligent and thorough execution of the work.

THE COMMITTEE.

* The records of the names of applicants was so incomplete, that it was found impracticable to make an index of them as stated in the resolution. The indexing by names of the inventors is complete.
